The Candidates Speak!

September 19, 2022 will be an important day for the Texas disability community.

That's when the major candidates for Texas' highest statewide offices—Governor, Lieutenant Governor, Attorney General, and Agriculture Commissioner—are invited to talk about public policy issues of interest to the Texas disability community. The Texas Disability Issues Forum (TDIF), a non-partisan event takes place just 8 weeks before Election Day. It's not a debate, but a chance for candidates to share their positions on critical issues and answer questions from an independent moderator. The forum will be live-streamed by our media partner, the Texas Tribune.

- A strong constituency. There are more than four million Texans with disabilities--from birth to advanced age. The community is much larger counting family members, friends, advocates and others. Candidates are starting to recognize the disability community as an important constituency.
- High-profile issues. Matters important to the community are more prominent in 2022 than in any election in memory. Major Texas media including the San Antonio Express-News, Houston Chronicle, Dallas Morning News, and Austin American-Statesman, have already spotlighted disability issues in top-of-the-ballot races.
